Biographical Information

Rodney E. Moss, Esq.

Areas of Practice:

Civil Trial Practice • Serious Personal Injury • Defective Products • Medical and Legal Malpractice • Wrongful Death • Truck Accidents • Aviation Accidents

Rodney Moss is the founding partner of the law firm of Moss • Hovden and has been practicing as a trial lawyer for over 43 years. He received his Juris Doctorate degree from Loyola Law School where he was selected for membership in the St. Thomas More Law Honor Society.

For five years before being admitted to practice law, he was an adjuster for a large insurance company.

Mr. Moss is considered one of the premiere trial lawyers in Southern California, having earned the highest rating of “AV preeminent rated lawyer” by the leading national legal rating service.

In the practice of law, he concentrates on serious personal injury and wrongful death cases resulting from auto, truck, and aviation accidents, medical malpractice, products liability, and has obtained verdicts and settlements in thousands of cases for millions of dollars.

He researched and appeared on CBS’ 60 Minutes segment on plastic surgical malpractice and has authored and published articles and lectured on subjects including medical malpractice in California and client communications, among others.

Mr. Moss was honored to have been selected by the Los Angeles leading legal newspaper, The Daily Journal, in their Litigator Profile section. He was a recipient of the Consumer Attorneys of California Recognition as an experienced “Trial Lawyer” in the fields of personal injury, products liability, and professional liability—1995. He also received the honor of being selected as the 2010 Attorney of the Year by the Southeast District Bar Association.
